"Denver: Inside & Out"

Daniel Hartline - Photography

Robin Ault - Painting

Space Gallery

July 26th - August 25th, 2007

Robin Ault Paintings, Space Gallery

Both photographer Daniel Hartline and painter Robin Ault have ties to Denver: Hartline's portraits of Denver's most well known architectural subjects are instantly recognizable, but the Denver connection in Ault's precise, highly structured paintings stems more from his professional work as a project designer for a Denver architecture firm for local projects including the Colorado Convention Center. The pieces from both artists work well together: Ault's muted palate and 2 dimensional lines and shapes are evocative of architectural blueprints and set the stage for Hartline's B&W architectural photo composites. The show runs at Space gallery until August 25th, with special hours on First Friday August 3rd from 6:00 to 10:00 PM and the artists in attendance.
